What is the Airman and Family Readiness Center (A&FRC)?

How does it apply to me?

The Airman & Family Readiness Center supports individuals, families, and leadership with programs and services to strengthen communities, encourage self-sufficiency, enhance mission readiness and ease adaptation to the Air Force way of life. Services are provided to military members of all branches of service and all components. DOD employees and their families.

Class participation and questions are always welcome. So jump into this crazy military lifestyle armed with all the available resources and guidance help for resiliency, enrichment and personal development. Below is a brief snapshot of the various supportive programs we provide to you! Get started today and sign up for a class or two now!

Being in a military family can be stressful at times, with the PCS moves, deployments, changes in routines, distance from family, etc. We often try to do it all ourselves, because well, that's "the military life", right? We were stationed in Texas for most of my husband's career, and found it easier to juggle all of these things with the help of being in our home state. We were close to family, we were finished with school, we were established. Then we PCS'd to Florida. We knew it was going to be difficult, but we were up for the challenge. As a spouse, I knew my job was going to be harder. I was going to have to tailor my resume, job search, interview, etc.

By: Valerie Camacho, Air Force Spouse, Community Readiness Specialist

Layout by Deborah Ledbetter

With my education and work experience, I thought I was sure to find a job. Not so fast! On top of that, my daughter was having a rough transition into her new school here and was missing her family and friends. After a few months, someone asked me why I hadn't gone to the A&FRC for job assistance. What?! The A&FRC can help with resumes, interviews, and resources? I was sold. I immediately was connected with a Community Readiness Specialist and given contact information to a local program that provides workforce services specifically for military spouses and veterans. I was provided feedback on my resume, sent local hiring ads, and more. I signed up for the Federal Employment class through A&FRC and completed my first official federal resume. I was provided the support and resources that I had been yearning for and never knew the A&FRC were now at my fingertips. Resources such as "Childcare for PCS", finance classes, personal work/life support and coaching, spouse employment, and more! The list goes on, and I know now that if I have a question, the Airman & Family Readiness Center will help me get the answer I need or connect my family with the appropriate resources, all with a smile on their face! So what's the end of this story? Well, I am proud to say that I am one of your Community Readiness Specialists here at Hurlburt Field Airman & Family Readiness Center. We are here and ready to serve you and your family!

As someone new to Hurlburt Field, and military life, I was not sure where to even begin when exploring the base. From the information I got from my husband, I knew of the commissary, exchange, and the medical center. Other than these, I was not aware of much else that was offered.

I recently joined the 1st Special Operations Force Support Squadron (1 SOFSS) Marketing Team here at Hurlburt, where I attended the marketing portion of a briefing presentation for base newcomers. I learned more about what is offered to me as a spouse and a DoD ID Cardholder. What I enjoy about FSS is that it has a plethora of access, ranging from outdoor recreation, education opportunities, child and youth care, on-base dining and so much more. What stuck out to me when learning about what FSS offers, is how family and fun focused we are. There are so many events and activities that are available for families throughout the year, and it is fun when the events are themed according to the season! FSS works hard at including all ages, by offering activities that will catch the eyes of younger and older audiences.

In this part one of a two part series of "What is FSS?", I will share some of the exciting opportunities that FSS offers.

I learned the Outdoor Recreation Center has an array of activities for me to choose from: The Marina, FAMCamp, Rifle and Pistol Club, Dive Shop, Aquatic Center, Lil' Commando Community Park Pavilions, beachside pagodas, RV Storage Lots, specialized trips and classes, and rentals for camping gear, bouncy houses, dunking booth, boats, paddleboards and more! Something that I will never forget when first arriving on the base was being able to rent a boat from the Outdoor Recreation Marina with all my friends, and enjoying the day in the hot sun with a cold drink in my hand. Learning that I have access to something like that really made an impression on me, and helps me remember I can do that and more, and as long as I have a DoD ID card, it is accessible to me any time I want! In addition to Outdoor Recreation, the other FSS facilities are not only for military service members, but for their spouses as well!

The FSS Fitness Centers (Aderholt, Commando and Riptide) on base are great facilities that allow anyone with a DoD ID to work-out and enjoy the featured amenities like: a sauna, a massage, and even free fitness classes! Aderholt and Commando also offer after-hours access: open to CAC holders and dependent ID card holders over 18. Authorized users can register their ID card for after-hours 24/7 at the Aderholt and Commando Fitness service desks during normal business hours and enjoy access around the clock (Riptide excluded). In Aderholt there is even a Parent and Tot Room to work out with a play area for toddlers (not available after hours). There is even more opportunity to enjoy the outside with tennis and hockey courts located near the Commissary, a mobile Beaver Fit Box, Alpha Warrior and Combat Fit Pads, and an upgraded Track and Soccer field. Track all your fitness goals with the Hurlburt Fit Incentive Program full of rewards you earn along your fitness journey by attending classes, doing workouts and event participating in fun runs.

Hurlburt Lanes Bowling Center offers 12 lanes for both recreation and league bowlers, has a newly renovated interior and kitchen that houses the Spare Time Grill which serves up breakfast, lunch and dinner while you are on base. If you like to strike it up, Hurlburt Lanes is a great way to gather with friends recreationally and meet new ones! Maybe sign-up for one of their Leagues!

The Community Center is a place where Airmen and civilians can come and spend time relaxing or playing games with friends. We have a lot of amenities offered here, like professional pool tables, a cyber-lounge, wireless Internet access, flat-panel television monitors, projection screens to view your favorite movie, theatre style, an Xbox 360 gaming room and a musician's «jam» room. You can even meet up with other families, enjoy the snack bar, and entertain yourselves with a huge selection of board games and more from 11am-8pm Tuesday-Saturday! Family members under the age of 12 are welcome when accompanied by a parent/guardian. Another great program offered through the Community Center is the Single Airman Program Initiative (SAIP), offering exciting trips and activities for single Airmen and one guest, subsidized through the R4R resiliency funding. Come see what it is all about and how you can participate in so much!

Gator Lakes Golf Course boasts upgraded greens with a beautiful 18-Hole Golf Course with a view of Gator Lakes. Yes, there are spectators too! There's also a driving range, a practice putting green, and a Pro-Shop. The Oasis Café is open for breakfast and lunch for your favorite food and beverages. Junior Enlisted (JR E), E1-E4 are eligible for FREE golf on Sundays. Tournaments are monthly, with a Pizza Scramble every Wednesday and Glow Golf available monthly through the colder months. Want to learn to golf and do not know where to start? There are several Golf Clinics through the warm season for both adults and up and coming youth golfers!

The Education Center is here for you and your dependent's growth and development. The center offers continued education, college credit, and Career Skills Programs (CSP). The current on-base schools are Embry Riddle Aeronautical University, Northwest Florida State College, and University of Arkansas.

The Airman and Family Readiness Center's (A&FRC) primary focus is to support readiness by helping families and single military members adapt to the demands of Air Force life and to meet Airmen in every step of their career. The center designs, develops and conducts quality of life programs to develop important skills and foster a strong sense of Air Force community. Some of the most influential programs offered are: Key Spouse training to equip them with skills & resources to promote family and unit readiness, Personal Financial Readiness, Spouses 101, Spouse Employment and Resumé Preparation, Relocation Assistance, Voting Assistance, Wounded Warrior care/services, Transitioning members, AF Families Forever that supports survivors of Airmen lost while on Active Duty, Educational opportunities for both Airmen and their families, and Certification Program opportunities. Air Force Aid partners with AFAS to assist with financial emergencies, childcare for PCS, Bundles for Babies and more.

In addition to our day-to-day activities, we also offer several community events throughout the year. Our big base-wide events include: Eggstravaganza, Commando Games, Freedom Fest, Battle on the Beach Squadron Competition and Boat Regatta, Fall Fest and the Tree Lighting and Winter Wonderland in the Air Memorial Park. There are hundreds of specialized events throughout the year. Whether your interests include hiking, bowling, painting or gaming, there is something for everyone to enjoy. There is so much that is included with the FSS, it is hard to fit everything into one article! It's important to remember that these facilities and specials are offered to all with a DoD ID card, including spouses and family members.

Want to know more? Look for Part 2 of "What is FSS?" in our May magazine as we explore more, and we hope that what we have mentioned here keeps you excited for what is to come.

Here are 3 things to do now:

1. Check out our Calendar on the myhurlburt.com website for a full listing of activities and programs.
2. Follow Hurlburt Force Support Squadron on Facebook and Instagram for updates on events, programs, and giveaways.

As Young As You Feel Day

22 March

Contributed and layout by Emily MacDonald

Adulting. Defined as “Carrying out responsibilities expected of an adult; paying bills, showing up to work on time, remembering to feed your pet.” It’s growing up, and part of that is getting older. You groan when you have to bend down for something, or you catch yourself falling asleep in front of the TV. It can be difficult coming to terms that you are getting older.

On March 22, celebrate “As Young As You Feel Day”, by doing something that will make you feel and remember what it is like to be younger.

No, this is not like any regular health column where it tells you to get more sleep, or eat healthier or exercise 2-3 times a week. This is your chance to do something out of the box, something to make you feel like a giddy little kid again.

Listed here are a few fun, whimsical ideas and thoughts to consider that can help put some childlike wonder back into your life.

- Eat an ice cream cone at the park
- Swing at the park
- Make a pillow and blanket fort and watch a movie
- Visit a retro arcade and play games
- Have a pillow fight
- Finger paint
- Fly a kite
- Build a fairy-tale sand castle
- Jump on a trampoline
- Go jumping in puddles
- Wear crazy colored socks
- Blow bubbles
