Welcome back to the place we talk all things tech!

This month we are going to be talking about Virtual Reality! What is it? How can it harm us? How can it help us? Let's dive into the nuances of what makes Virtual Reality so special.

Concerns of VR

We are going to begin with the biggest concern when it comes to Virtual Reality (VR), and that is children. If you are letting any child play some of these games, they will be thrown in with everyone else. This means that they will be told and shown a lot of things that you may not want your child to experience.

Keep in mind that most VR games have the microphone turned on by default since Virtual Reality's primary focus is getting people connected. The required age for most VR headsets is 13 and for good reason. Some early studies have shown that VR affects children differently than it does adults, as it is easier to blur the line of reality for brains that are still developing. Another thing to think about when letting your kids jump into VR is that it's the same as letting them on the internet. People can say they're someone completely different from who they actually are. There have already been a few cases of predators getting on VR to prey on children. Make it your responsibility to know what your child is playing and more importantly, who your child is playing with. There are a lot of single player games that they can spend hours enjoying. Do some research on the games and try to moderate the time spent as best as you can.

Beauty of VR

Now that most of the concerns are out of the way, if you are an adult looking to have fun or even get a workout in, Virtual Reality is a great place for you. One amazing thing that Virtual Reality is being used for is physical therapy. In VR you can simulate a lot of things that can help with recovery. Now I will admit, I am a little biased towards Virtual Reality since I met my wife in a VR game. I know, it's crazy to think that two people could meet, not physically see each other, fall in love, and eventually get married, but hear me out. In VR you can go and experience almost anything you can think of. Want to go visit another country? No problem. Want to go to an arcade with your friends without leaving your house? VR has you covered. You can easily get lost and spend thousands of hours in there solely exploring. Now imagine doing that with someone you just met and getting to learn their raw personality with no filters because they let their inner-self out that may hide when they are in person with someone they just met. That is one of the many beauties of VR. Sometimes you get to see the side of people that they truly are.

Before you buy

If you're looking to get into VR and are wondering where to start, most social VR games have a desktop or console version you can play before deciding to buy a headset. I also recommend trying VR out before you buy one since some people can get motion sickness and I would hate for anyone to go out and buy a VR headset only to get home, adjust everything to the correct settings, and then be motion sick all the time. There is also the route of pushing through the motion sickness and getting your "VR Legs" as some call it, where you more or less desensitize yourself to VR and the associated motion sickness. If you decide that you'd like to get a headset, one that's great for beginners is the Meta Quest 2. It's a stand-alone headset, which means you don't need a computer or gaming console to experience what VR has to offer. Keep in mind, however, unless you have a battery pack to hook up to it, expect it to last around 2-4 hours, depending on what you're doing on it. On a side note, the Quest 3 is supposed to be coming out later this year and it may be worth waiting until then to get a headset.

These recommendations are my own and there is no federal endorsement of any of the products, webservices or companies intended.

IMMERSE YOURSELF IN NATURE AND FUN AT THE OUTDOOR RECREATION

Leave your worries at the house and come play outside with us at Outdoor Recreation (ODR). Whether it's hiking, kayaking, boating, or one of our many events created just for you, we've got the perfect outlet for you and your family.

What can you expect from us? Decompress at the Kraken Tiki Bar while the kids play a round of cornhole on the beach. Let out your creative side at our Painting by the Shore classes or enjoy one of our upcoming events like the Hurbie Rummage Sale and S'more & Stars with ODR. Our Hurbie Rummage Sale is a community yard sale that will be open to anyone with a DoD ID card. This is the perfect opportunity to clean out those closets and make a little extra money before spring break or your next PCS. And who knows, you might find some unique items for yourself.

S'mores & Stars with ODR is an overnight, on-base camping trip. This camping trip will be open to members of the military community, who have a DOD ID card and their dependents of any age. There will be a camp-style dinner, educational demonstrations by the Fire Department, K-9 Unit, Security Forces, Storytime with the Library, and of course S'mores! We will then wrap up the night with a movie in the park.

Don't miss out on our regularly scheduled programs, like Paint by the Shore and Movie on the Beach. Sharon LaPine, a local artist, comes to our Kraken Tiki Bar on the second Saturday of every month to hold painting sessions. Our Movie on the Beach night happens every third Saturday of the month. We have a large outdoor movie screen for everyone to enjoy a movie at sunset. The Kraken Tiki Bar is open for painters and moviegoers who want to enjoy some beverages by our lovely bartender Cherie.

For Hurlburt Field's active duty and their immediate dependents, we have a special treat. We have some amazing R4R trips coming up this year. Picture Fishing Charters, Skydiving, Parasailing, Dolphin Tours, Sunset Cruises, Taste of Tours & Tubing, and even Helicopter Rides! ODR is more than just a day at the beach, it's memories that last a lifetime.

For more information about our upcoming events, as well as the services we offer, Outdoor Recreation can be reached at

Outdoor Recreation and Marina

Meet Jonathon Jones. He is the director of Hurlburt Field Outdoor Recreation and Marina, and has been working with ODR for 25 years. He enjoys the interactions he has with the military community and being able to provide fun things to do for them, outside of the hustle and bustle within their workplace. ODR is available to all with a DoD ID card and their sponsored guests, and offers both convenient and amazing locations where you do not have to deal with crowded beaches and tourists, overall a safe location and rental prices that can not be compared anywhere else outside of Hurlburt Field.

Jonathon hopes to expand ODR offerings in the future, and with his big goals in mind, he would like everyone to know that ODR is an enjoyable place for all who enjoy the beach life. With jaw-dropping views, delectable drinks provided by the Kraken Tiki Bar, and so many water activities that reaches an audience where anyone can find something to do. Some of his favorite things to do at ODR is going kayaking and enjoying the boat rides.

Kraken Tiki Bar

Meet Cherie Respole. She is the Kraken Tiki Bar bartender, and she has been working with Hurlburt Field Outdoor Recreation and Marina for 3 years now. She is passionate about her job and she loves to spread the word about what a great hang-out spot the Tiki Bar is. She loves interacting with everyone on base, swapping stories, and serving tasty drinks that will surely have them coming back for more. The Kraken Tiki Bar offers a beautiful view of the ocean, with the best sunrises and sunsets you'll see in the area.

Cherie wants to highlight that the Kraken Tiki bar provides a picnic area underneath the pagoda with children's toys and corn hole available. The Kraken Tiki Bar isn't just an adults-only location, it's for the whole family to enjoy. Cherie would love to have the bar decorated with military patches, flags, and other décor making the space feel more special than it already is. If you would like to contribute memorabilia drop by ODR to see Cherie.

The Kraken Tiki Bar opens for the season on March 3, Fri-Sun with reservations also available during non-business hours by calling (850) 884-6939.
