In this classic tale of holiday travel gone wrong, an uptight advertising executive and an obnoxious, but lovable, salesman must work together to get back home for Thanksgiving.

HURLBURT FIELD LIBRARY'S FAVORITE FALL CRAFT

PUMPKIN PAPERCRAFT

With a little bit of paper and glue, families can create their own D.I.Y. pumpkin patch with this simple craft, perfect for a fall afternoon.

What you'll need:

- Orange and green cardstock or construction paper
- Scissors and a pencil
- Craft Glue

Steps:

1. Trace and cut out 8-12 identical circles with the orange paper.
2. Fold each orange circle in half.
3. Glue one side of a folded circle and press another folded circle on top of it. Repeat this step until all folded circles are glued together in a stack.
4. Cut out a thin, small stem shape with the green paper. Wrap the end around the pencil to create a curled stem.
5. Glue the green stem toward the inside of the last folded circle's flap.
6. Add more glue to the last folded circle's flap and close the sphere to create a round 3D pumpkin shape.
7. Cut leaves from your leftover green paper and glue them onto your pumpkin for a more detailed look!

TIP: Trim your pumpkin after step 6 for a more classic pumpkin shape.

The Cost of "Getting Around to It"

How I Left $300 on the Table and How You Can Avoid It This November

Contributed by the Military & Family Readiness Center and the 1SOFSS Marketing Office

It was mid-December and my to-do list was a mile long. Between holiday prep, work deadlines, and life in general, "enroll in FSAFEDS" (Federal Flexible Spending Account Program) was one of those to-do tasks I kept pushing to tomorrow. Then, tomorrow became the day after the deadline…I missed it.

At first, I brushed it off. "It's fine," I thought, "I'm healthy and I don't really spend that much on medical stuff anyway." I was wrong.

Over the next few months, life happened. I sustained a stubborn hip injury that required unexpected urgent care visits, physical therapy co-pays, and an out-of-pocket TENS unit (a portable electronic muscle stimulator used for temporary pain relief). On top of that, my regular, predictable wellness expenses – like my $110-a-month chiropractic visits – kept marching on.

When I finally sat down and did the math, the reality stung. In my tax bracket (22%), if I had simply set aside the money pre-tax to cover my regular chiropractic care alone, I would have saved $290.40. That is the equivalent of getting almost three of my chiropractic treatments! Instead, I paid Uncle Sam his cut first and then paid full price for medical bills out of my own pocket.

With Federal Benefits Open Season running from mid-November to mid-December, don't make the same mistake I made. Planning ahead pays off, so let's dive deeper as to why you should make enrolling in the FSAFEDs a priority, starting with the basics.

The Magic of Pre-Tax Dollars (FSA 101)

On the surface, a Flexible Spending Account (FSA) sounds complicated, but looking at it closely, it's simply a tax shelter. You decide on an annual amount to contribute to your FSA and that money is deducted from your paycheck before taxes are taken out.

Did you know that by contributing just as little as a dollar, you could be saving more money on fees and spending costs? That is, depending on your tax bracket. For instance, if you are in the 12% tax bracket, every dollar you put into an FSA effectively gives you a 12% discount on your medical or childcare costs. If you are in the 22% tax bracket, it's a 22% discount.

Here's how different military households can win with an FSA:

For the Single Airman (no dependents)

You don't need a spouse or kids to benefit. If you pay for any of the following, you are leaving money on the table by not using an FSA:

- Prescription contact lenses, glasses, and solution
- Over-the-counter essentials (acne treatments, allergy medicine, sunscreen, and pain relievers)
- First-aid supplies

For the Military Family

The savings multiply when dependents are involved:

- Orthodontics & Dental: Braces are a massive, predictable expense. Paying for it pre-tax can save you over $1,000
- The Childcare Shelter: If you pay for daycare, preschool, before/after-school care, or summer day camps so you can work, you can use a Dependent Care FSA to save thousands on those bills

Scan the QR codes for a full list of FSA elgible expenses:

Health Care FSA Expenses

Dependent Care FSA Expenses

The "Meat & Potatoes" Saving Guide

To see how much cash you can keep in your pocket, check out how these common expenses shake out:

Annual Expense	What It Covers	Savings (12% Tax Bracket)	Savings (22% Tax Bracket)
$500	Annual contact lenses & allergy medications	$60	$110
$1,500	Copays, dental crown, & physical therapy	$180	$330
$5,000	Daycare or summer camp fees dependent care	$600	$1,100

Rules to Know

1. The $680 Safety Net (Health Care FSA)
   Many people avoid FSAs because they fear the "use-it-or-lose-it" rule. But with the 2026 Health Care FSA, you're allowed to roll over up to $680 of unused funds into the next year. You don't have to be perfect with your math to protect your money.
2. The "No Rollover" Reality (Dependent Care FSA)
   Unlike the Health Care FSA, the Dependent Care FSA does not allow for a rollover. Every dollar you commit must be spent on eligible care within the calendar year. This makes reviewing your past childcare bills and calculating an accurate estimate crucial before you sign up.
3. You Must Re-Enroll Every Year
   Unlike TRICARE or other benefits, your FSA selections do not roll over automatically. You must log-in and select your contribution amount every single year during Open Season.

November Workshops

Don't let a busy schedule cost you hundreds of dollars

NEW GAME UNLOCKED

HYPER BOWLING

We all know bowling has been around since the dawn of time, or at least that's how it feels. Between wearing those slick shoes, taking in that familiar bowling alley scent, and hoping the next roll will be the one to claim bragging rights, it's easy to see why bowling remains a timeless pastime. It's that traditional game we know and love, where competition among friends and family centers on earning the highest score by knocking down 10 pins across 10 frames. There's no denying that the best chance of winning is throwing spares and strikes, especially on the tenth frame for bonus rolls. That is if luck is on your side, or maybe you're a professional bowler who knows a thing or two. Let's face it, bowling can't get any better than this…or can it?

Hurlburt Lanes is leveling up into the future with Hyper-Bowling, a new interactive way to elevate your bowling experience that features a video game-like style to keep the fun going for all ages.

HOW IT WORKS:

Each game contains unlockable levels that progressively get difficult as you play. Within each level, there are at least 5 challenges to beat before advancing. This allows game time to move quicker than a traditional game of bowling while also keeping engagement at an all-time high. Say goodbye to gutterballs and say hello to colored targets!

The bumpers on the lane will be raised to feature light strips that will ultimately be your colored targets you'll be hitting alongside the bowling pins. The colored targets indicate multipliers that can be added to your points. However, if you hit anything colored red, your score gets wiped clean– ZERO. For every pin you knock down, 100 points are added to your score. As you attempt to master the game, be mindful of fouls. By throwing too hard or too fast, your score will be sent back to zero also.

To bowl your way to victory, the score works in this way:

Multiplier x (number of pins hit x 100) = score

For example, say you hit a colored target multiplier worth "4x" and knocked down 6 pins. Using the formula, your score is calculated by multiplying the 6 pins hit by 100 points each and then multiplying that total by 4, which would then make your total score 2,400 points.

4 x (6 pins hit x 100) = 2,400

Hyper-Bowling doesn't require you to be a professional bowler to play. At the same time, it is pro-approved to say the least, as the playing field is leveled enough that even kids could beat the adults. The bottom line? This is bowling reimagined! Learn the game in seconds and play to win the competition. Now you know the "hype" in Hyper-Bowling! Grab your friends and family and check it out for yourself at Hurlburt Lanes.
